3. Oh! where shall I go! tell me what can I do, Is there no one to tell me what

"beau-ti-ful snow," Ask-ing a pen-n-y from each one I meet, To told me to save; But how lit-tle I dream'd when they came to the door, That course to pur-sue! With my lit-tle dress torn, and no shoes on my feet—Oh! I'm buy me some shoes for my lit-tle cold feet. No one takes I would be pen-n-y less, home-less, and poor. Tear-drops now hun-gry and cold—must I die in the street! When my jour-ney is pi-ty, or hears my ap-peal, cheek, I God a-lone knows how I freeze on my col-or-less go, Let me die in the street, in the o-ver, and Death calls me to go, Let me die in the street, in the suf - fer and feel; Half star'd and shiv - er - ing, sad - ly I ev - er I speak, No one seems car - ing wher - ev - er I
